My Dear Friend Garrison

Your letter of July reached us about the last of August, had it been addressed to N Orange we might have rec'd earlier, & had it been directed to this City it would have reached us without any delay, however we were very glad to get it as we did & still more glad to notice your remarks that you would probably visit us on your way to the meeting to be held in Pennsylvania in Octo I trust we shall not be disappointed, allow us to hope you may find it convenient to bring your good wife with you, Ann Rebecca would enjoy a visit of a few weeks from her very much & I have no doubt it would be mutually beneficial.

Do you remember the old hunter you saw at our house, "Uncle James" we used to call him he was a brother of Mrs R's Mother and like her in many respects, well last Sunday Am at eight o'clock of the Clock we all breakfasted together, he was apparently as well as usual & I think he was about the yard as late as two AM about which time he commenced vomiting & before 12 PM had ceased to breathe, The Shock was very great to my Wife coming as it did so suddenly, almost without any warning. They were much attached to each other, she looking upon him almost as a Father, He was a very hard working man for one of his years (78) always the first one up in the House & always busy about something but he has gone to reap the recovered of the truly vir-tuous & just. In his death the Slave has lost a sympathizing friend. At my recent visit to your City I called at your new & reformed office with the hope of seeing you & was very sorry that my engagements were such that I could not call at your house.

My time was quite short and my duties many. Have you seen our Ranges in the Fair they are placed there by Mr Herman who has the sale of them for your City. I was glad to notice by the papers a short time since that Lady Byron had left a legacy for the promotion of the good Cause in our midst, and with many more may emulate her philanthropic example, with much love to your good Wife & children I am as ever Yours truly
C. Beane
